Therefore, in this circumstance, the court must order that the district court determine before the entry of final judgment the claims remaining for adjudication or the rights and liabilities of the parties. Id. 11 Our previous decisions have not adequately considered these principles. We have not specifically analyzed whether a Rule 54(b) certification is proper when the merits of an issue are decided in another case in the same case. We have not considered whether principles of res judicata dictate that a trial judge should refrain from certifying a decision that is entirely separate from the merits. 12 The Supreme Court has recently discussed the appropriate use of the Rule 54(b) certificate in a non-unitary situation. Curtiss-Wright Corp. v. General Elec. Co., --- U.S. ----, ----, 100 S.Ct. 1460, 1462, 64 L.Ed.2d 497 (1980). There the Court distinguished between severable and non-severable claims. In the latter situation Rule 54(b) certification is permissible only if the district court makes a finding of "exceptional circumstances." Id. We do not believe that a severable issue, in and of itself, constitutes an "exceptional circumstance" justifying a 54(b) certification. On the other hand, we have held that a class determination, even when separable from

Sou.Q: Backing up lost information on a PC I backed up all my files, documents, etc. onto a thumbdrive yesterday. I have a new PC, with the intention of copying everything onto my new machine, however I do not have everything backed up. What is the best way to go about backing up the information on the old PC, including all the programs installed, my user profile, etc? A: You can use either a Linux Live CD/DVD or create a Live USB stick. Both methods are explained in detail on the Ubuntu Wiki. I've installed Debian before so that might help with the live CD/DVD. of 0 to 75% of the highest density available, preferably up to 55% and most preferably up to 50%. A second preferred embodiment of the present invention is a process for post-additively coating a cylinder or coated cylindrical component. The coating comprises a film comprising a polymerizable compound of the following general formula (I): $\text{xe}_2\text{x}_80\text{x}_83$ wherein: A is a cyclic anhydride, R is selected from the group consisting of a 4-20 carbon chain, optionally substituted by one or more halogens, a nitro group, an alkoxy group, an ester group or an amide group, and an amine group $\text{Rxe}_2\text{x}_80\text{x}_2\text{xe}_2\text{x}_80\text{x}_94\text{NH}_2$, and optionally comprising a polymerizable functional group, $\text{Rxe}_2\text{x}_80\text{x}_2$ is selected from the group consisting of a 4-20 carbon chain, optionally substituted by one or more halogens, an alkoxy group, an ester group, an amide group or an amine group, and optionally comprising a polymerizable functional group, and optionally comprising at least one polymerizable functional group, and the index m is 0-1. edd6d56e20
