Key: Maze of Illusions is an action platform game that takes place in the 33 rooms in the dungeon, which are divided into 3 worlds: earth, hell and heaven. In addition, 3 challenging bosses will be waiting to be defeated. In other news, seagull has been selected to be the Spanish representative to the online competition on the third International Independent Video Game Competition (IDVG-I3) ([url] This contest will happen online between April and May. As seagull stated in a previous update, however, the game will be released on April 4, 2017. Therefore, the whole development of the game has started on that date in order to finish it by the deadline in time. Thank you so much for your time and attention. I hope to see you soon with an update about the release of the game. UPDATE 1: Beta Patch -Added new "Fall" animation on jumping and diving. -Fixed a problem that the platform remained unlocked after reaching the 4th room of the central level. -Fixed a problem in "Delirium" mode where the player could not die if he fell into a hole with lava below the hole and died in the safety zone. -Improved the speed of the time based events. -Locked all doors in the world (including the rooms) so the player won't be able to see the moves of the enemies to the doorway. -Exploded in the current world to the last room the player was on. -Fixed a problem that the player could not turn up light on dark rooms using the F key. -Fixed a problem that the player could be teleported when moving through the world map. -Fixed a problem that the player could not teleport when hit by the enemies. -Fixed a problem that player was able to push himself onto spikes. -Fixed a problem that the player could not see the minimap or the health bar in the 4th and higher worlds. -Fixed a problem that the game would freeze when the player pressed ESC button while the item was being dropped to the ground. -Fixed a problem that the player was able to jump through walls and the ceiling of the 4th world using the F key. -Fixed a problem that the player was able to jump through non-transparent walls by pressing the W key while the player was on the ground.

What's new:

of The Creeping Evil The Phantoms / The Creepy Men / The Creeping Insane The Phantoms are Chaos beings manifesting itself as shades and shades of his presence feels Under the name "Revik" which calls back to a different man born from the same source. that I lost. And which, although it is associated with my body, was never mine, always Revik's. This one time it shows up as a man in a doorway, and I feel completely lost, completely surrounded, which means that in order to find myself again, I must better understand myself in relation to him, as he is my eyes. If the teachers will not give me the keys, I will invent the keys on my own. The insane to it is, well, Insane. That's part of what makes him him, you see, the wild-eyes glance off of me, even in the strongest fields of his own fog - the white man's wild-eyed madness, in a living body. Note that this of course fits with the sparse updates in the general forum because I've been working on understanding my abilities. This one time I was working on tones, when he stepped in front of me, stone eyes, blank-stained sky grey... Like a hand pulled out of the pocket of your jacket, with fingers awkward and pink and caught up in the static of that shade, Lehy pushed herself up from the ground where she'd landed. "Kremita...", she said, voice quiet and high-pitched but clear enough in spite of it. "Are you all right?" Before she finished asking, I felt it all pulling at me, the static trapped inside of the light. "He's a shapechanger, Lehy," I said, unwrapping myself the way all of my body seemed to do at that exact moment. "He was trying to possess you, remember? He's a lycanthrope." "And what does the color of the eyes mean?" she said, placing one hand on my bare elbow to support herself. She was telling me she'd forgotten. So she definitely doesn't know. Nor has she seen what was inside the doorway, which was just as well. This whole place has been playing tricks on me... I'd had too much of it in the last couple days, come to think of it. "There will be more of them, won't there?" she asked,
