Fantasy Grounds 3.2 and higher is required for this adventure. Experience in the use of Fantasy Grounds is highly recommended. Contact your local game store or visit the Fantasy Grounds Web site to learn more. The Compass Point rules are compatible with all of the Pathfinder compatible systems. The included Pathfinder Core Rules Reference (3.5E) is required to use the Compass Point rules for Pathfinder. The Windows application we provide is not a full download of the Fantasy Grounds software. We recommend a subscription to the game because it makes it easier for the game master to include, manage and deploy the game in sessions. Subscriptions can be purchased on the Web site (Compass Point #01: The Great Plains). Eureka! Our hero manages to find the cult leader that runs the iron mask cult with the support of a new ally. But who will be the unfortunate first to be turned into an iron mask? How about that former client of the courtesan? Will the chieftain make a confession? And will it lead to the demise of the dungeon that is the cult's lair? The local farmers are wary of this cult and follow its doings closely. But who of the citizens know more than what the cult wants them to know? Guide: Ratings, Close-In Fire, Water, and Strategy If you're not registered at NRA board member, please register now. That's how you get approved for this awesome monthly tip. If you have been a member before, don't want the emails, or have another method of receiving these, please email me and let me know. I'm sorry but I'll no longer be able to let you know how to get these tips. This is the third tip in a Survival Guide series to help you survive in a Shelter-In-Place scenario with the prospects of SHTF. This article will deal with ratings, close-in fire, where to put your ammo, and why. Many thanks to Chris, Russell, Joe, Joe G., Chris C., Stanley T., and good buddy John M. that sent in much appreciated information on the why's and how's of "Rusty's Survival Guide." So start consuming your Survival Guide and I hope you have fun doing it! Recommended firearms | muzzle velocity and distance Glocks and revolvers are the most common weapons for SHTF scenarios. In pretty much any situation they will serve you well. One type of weapon tends to serve you well for whatever the situation. Break down the situations and you will then know which are the best choices. An oldie but goodie...1771.jpg Next let's deal with ratings, rating systems, and stacking of ratings. Here we'll answer the questions of "should I carry 30 or 40 rounds of ammo, can I carry a larger caliber?" and more. This will include, ammo for long range engagement, engage when you're the furthest away from the threats potential, and why close-in fire is so important and should always be part of your survival plan, even during WUP. Carrying ammo Is it good for you to carry a larger amount of ammo? How about letting your brain do the deciding for you. Do you leave yourself defenseless because you feel you have to carry ammo for every type of shooting scenario? Let your brain decide. Take some time to determine your needs and storage requirements, then start figuring out how much you can carry. For civilians personal defense, most carry 20-30 rounds of 9mm. But of course, it is GOOD to have extra. No matter how often you practice I guarantee that, every once in a while, you will have an encounter and
