When the Great Minds of The Future developed their latest creation, it was a sprawling, confusing, tangled mess of ideas. There were too many doodles, not enough content, and too much joy to be had by just watching the clock tick to see if they'd succeeded. Whilst struggling to make their mess sane, it was decided that there would be too much fun in allowing players to create their own future by tweaking the giant maze of their game's contents. When the clock struck midnight, a slice of their task had been accomplished. Whilst this was deemed a great victory in a time when the future was very grey, it was simply renamed to 'zTime' to be just a little more obvious. With or without the name change, there are always bugs in a new game. PS: This game is completely free. Key Features: - Create your own dystopian future by tweaking the giant maze that the game's puzzles are built out of. - Create, develop, and release your own ideas by tweaking the giant maze of the game's puzzles. - Explore your very own dystopian future by zapping time around and posing questions to the future paths of your enemies. - You will be asked questions about your environment and what is in your way. Steam page: Screenshots (click to enlarge): A GIF! Download (and play)! P.S.: We had to lose the author details of zTime: Reviews "Everything within zTime is made with care and love, and I know I've yet to experience a game that is as fun as this one has been. More importantly, I know that I can trust this developer. They've got my support. They've got my time. Do what you will with it, but it is the most fun I've had in a long time." By being kind to those around her, NiCO will gradually form relationships with her new friends. Although all the other characters are set up like a typical boy's love story, the story of NiCO will be a heartwarming coming of age story of a young girl. Purchased content can only be used when the update is installed. A character used in this costume cannot be used in other products. Please be careful of duplicating content. 'A Snack World' features a variety of cute characters and stages, and character skins can be shared between characters and costumes.

Aakhiri's Brother: Tejpal's father, Arun Tejpal, to join Congress at national level

"Incidentally, all the eight members of family are from the Congress," he said.

Aakhiri's family is bitter over the police actions in the case as it wanted the civil service to intervene. To date, the family has not given any statement to the media on the matter. But Aakhiri's brother, Arun Tejpal, met Rahul Gandhi at a RSS event and shared his family's plight, said sources. Allegations against Tejpal

The woman had filed an FIR alleging sexual harassment. Tejpal went missing in early October after she turned hostile. On October 7, the Supreme Court had ordered Tejpal's arrest and also directed him to stay outside the South Goa campus. Since, the case is subjudice and the family is under no pressure to approach the media, they have not shared their side with the media. This time, Arun Tejpal has suggested that the family meets up with the Congress President and share their grievances. As per sources, a top Congress leader from Delhi is already reaching out to the family to discuss the situation. From Delhi, a delegation led by the wife of Tejpal is expected to meet the family on Monday. c9d1549cdd

Tanks are back in the news, as tensions rise in a world set on war. As governments plot, the United Nations struggles to maintain peace in the world. With this becoming a major issue in the news and in the future, we see a rise in popularity in firearm tanks. Where can this process lead to, when even tanks are turned into lethal shooters? Well let's find out today and enjoy the ride. This whole idea of tanks as deadly shooters became popular through the medium of video games. Like many shooters, various driving games will allow you to get into tanks and engage in combat and destruction. Tanks today are all about the scope, which is the main weapon, and we can see that more and more of the modern tanks have a scope on them, almost like a machine gun. It is possible to add a second fire mode to the gun, which can be used like a grenade launcher. The main fire mode is often an automatic, which will simply fire off a volley of shots. The grenade launcher is often a separate fire mode that will attach to the main gun and allow you to fire grenades, which will be effective both for damage and to do distraction. There are also weapons like the HVAR, which will fire a high velocity rifle grenade. The rifle grenade is often one of the most effective ways to damage your enemies, as it will be an extremely effective distraction. Alongside this, the M60 turret machine gun was the first version, and has since become the most popular version in use today. While the most popular model of the M60 is the M60A1, it was the first version that became the most well-known, with over sixty million units produced. For comparison, the M60 has a rate of

1 Battle Titan Model Pack Present: A new Character Pack Inspired by the Ona and Titan Models! Character Specifications: - The Character will be available as a DLC in progress Some notes from Gearbox, here: "When trying to build and design a Battle-titan that is worthy of the Stepfamily title, the question rose up in the minds of the Gearbox community as to where the lore for the Titan is found within the universe of Battlegrounds. The designers found that within the lore of the Battle-Titan were a few lines in the Fallout: Nuka world that allude to a Single entity who can shape shift. The Ona were present in the Battlegrounds in the form of A group of (only 10) creatures called the Ona. The same lore also explained that these creatures were previously inhabited by the Veteran rank and/or higher but they died out when the Element from Nuka World and all of it's forces destroyed the last of the Ona's and aged out the population. To add a little color to the design, we crafted this Battle Titan from the freshly severed head of the very first Battle-Titan ever constructed back in the 13th century BC. This head has a tale to tell of it's very own. It will be available for purchase as a DLC only when the DLC content goes live. Some of the modellers presented this kit at the NUKE Day 2015 event as they really like it and wanted to try to construct it into a playable Battle-Titan. Skirmish: Battle-Titan Class 8 Full compatibility with Class 8 mechs! Yes, the Mechadillo Titan will be a sloperous Mechadillo Titan inspired by my Battle-Titan concept during Space-Ado era so it will be a Class 8. It will

That sucks!A French Muslim teenager, Amel Karboul, has been sentenced to two and a half years in prison for jaywalking when he was just 15 years old. (Photo: AP) A French Muslim teenager, Amel Karboul, has been sentenced to two and a half years in prison for jaywalking when he was just 15 years old. Karboul, 18, had been charged with the infraction because he was wearing a headscarf, which is a prohibited article of clothing, according to the Nation. Karboul was stopped by two police officers as he attempted to cross the street in the Paris suburb of Barbès on March 1, 2015. He was wearing a hijab, which is only for Muslim women and girls, but was issued a fine instead of being arrested for violating the law. When the teen attempted to appeal the fine, which was less than the amount required to be paid, he lost the appeal. Now, Karboul has been charged with the infraction and is facing a hefty fine that will push him deeper into debt. France's republic passed a new law in 2014 to prohibit any covering from the face to the neck for women when they are in public places, with an exception for medical reasons. Prior to the law taking effect in January 2015, there were no provisions in French law that strictly defined what was acceptable and what was not. French law has prohibited women from wearing clothing that covers the arms, legs and torso, but did not specifically define clothing that covered the face. Karboul's father, Ahmed, claimed the teen was stopped because of his attire and the fact that he was a Muslim.
