Benson (2010) 50 Cal.4th 741, 769.) “We review for substantial evidence a finding that a defendant is 16 personally armed. [Citations.] We review the trial court’s determination on the issue of self-defense for substantial evidence. [Citation.]” (People v. Swanson (1993) 14 Cal.App.4th 847, 853.) The jury was instructed as follows: “Every person who unlawfully discharges a firearm from a motor vehicle is guilty of reckless driving, a violation of Vehicle Code section 23103. [¶] For you to find the defendant guilty of this crime, the People must prove that: [¶] 1. The defendant unlawfully discharged a firearm from a motor vehicle; and [¶] 2. When the defendant did so, he was aware that it created a substantial danger of death or serious bodily injury to any of the persons below: [¶] [.] Michael Thompson [.] was negligent in fleeing from a pursuing law enforcement vehicle that was operated by a peace officer in lawful performance of his
